Steeped in history, 'Macedon House' is believed to have been built circa 1847 and operated for some time as the Mount Macedon Hotel.

From approximately 1887 it functioned as a boarding and guest house for many years, and has since been used as a private house, restaurant, reception centre, bowling clubhouse and kindergarten.

A rare surviving example of an early Victorian hotel, the building is noted on the Victorian Heritage Register and is currently in a state of disrepair.

Specified works have been outlined by Heritage Victoria that need to be actioned to prevent further deterioration of
